About PGIS

The Postgraduate Institute of Science (PGIS) is a National Institute established by the Ministry of Education and Higher Education in 1996, for the purpose of providing, promoting and developing higher education in science. It is the premier Postgraduate Institute in Science in Sri Lanka.

The PGIS is attached to the University of Peradeniya and depends on the university for formulation and implementation of its academic programmes and the award of postgraduate degrees. The institute strives to achieve its principle objectives to provide postgraduate instruction and training and facilitate research in different disciplines of science.

About ICMME

The International Conference on Mathematics and Mathematics Education (ICMME), organized by the Postgraduate Institute of Science, serves as a prominent platform for the exchange of knowledge and advancements in mathematics and mathematics education.

The inaugural ICMME, held in 2019, achieved remarkable success, attracting over 80 abstract submissions, with 68 presentations delivered during the conference. Subsequent editions of the ICMME were successfully conducted in 2021, 2023 and 2025 continuing its tradition of fostering academic excellence and collaboration in the field.
